PLANK LAYERS:

1. Protective coatings for wear resistance.
2. A 3.2mm layer of a solid timber species.
3. A 9.5mm middle core layer of plantation grown timber. This also houses the tongue and groove system.
4. A 1.5mm bottom layer balancing veneer.

Today more than ever, timber, when sourced correctly, is one of the most renewable resources in the world. TimberTop® uses timber that is planted for the production of natural rubber as the base for products.

TimberTop® takes great pride in the fact that the majority of the 3-layer engineered flooring composition encompasses the usage of renewable timber resources. 75% of each plank composition is made up of plantation species and 25% is from precious timber veneers. This meets the international standard of declaring a product environmentally friendly. TimberTop® is an environmentally safe and beautiful product.
